A Journey Through Time

This anthology is not merely a collection of poems but a journey through time. It spans three centuries, from the dawn of the Renaissance to the cusp of the Enlightenment, showcasing the evolution of Iberian lyric poetry and the changing sensibilities of its poets.

Witness the early stirrings of humanism in the 15th century, as poets like Juan de Mena and Íñigo López de Mendoza explore classical themes with a newfound fervor. Travel through the Golden Age of Spanish literature in the 16th and 17th centuries, when poets like Garcilaso de la Vega, Fray Luis de León, and Francisco de Quevedo elevate the lyric form to unprecedented heights.

Diverse Voices, United in Spirit

An Anthology of Iberian Lyric Poetry 1400-1700 is a testament to the rich diversity of the Iberian Peninsula. It features a wide range of poets, from courtly troubadours to wandering minstrels, from erudite scholars to humble peasants. Each voice brings a unique perspective and style, contributing to the vibrant tapestry of this anthology.

Discover the courtly love poems of the troubadours, with their elaborate metaphors and complex rhyme schemes. Delve into the mystical sonnets of Fray Luis de León, where the divine and the earthly intertwine.

Experience the biting satire of Francisco de Quevedo, a master of the epigram. And be moved by the deeply personal and emotional poems of Santa Teresa of Ávila, a mystic and reformer.

A Treasure for Scholars and Poetry Lovers Alike

This anthology is an invaluable resource for scholars of Iberian literature and a true delight for poetry lovers of all backgrounds. It includes the original texts in both Spanish and Portuguese, along with meticulous English translations that capture the beauty and depth of the original works.

Extensive notes and commentary provide context and insights into the poems, making this anthology an indispensable tool for understanding and appreciating the rich literary heritage of the Iberian Peninsula.
