An Excerpt from An Invisible Citizen: Redress of Grievances

I was arrested in 1993 for a crime I did not commit. I was convicted and sentenced to life in prison. I spent the next two decades fighting to prove my innocence. In 2014, I was finally exonerated and released from prison.

I am grateful for the support of my family, friends, and attorneys. I am also grateful for the many people who have worked to reform the criminal justice system. I believe that everyone deserves a fair trial and that no one should be wrongfully convicted.

I hope that my story will inspire others to fight for justice and to never give up hope.
