In this deeply moving and inspiring memoir, Jennifer Longo and Dana Jennings share their unforgettable journey through grief, love, and the power of memories.

After the sudden and unexpected death of their beloved father and husband, Jennifer and Dana were left reeling in pain and uncertainty. But amidst their sorrow, they found solace and strength in each other.

As they navigated the difficult days and months that followed, Jennifer and Dana began to write letters to their father, sharing their memories, their love, and their hopes for the future. These letters became a lifeline for them, a way to stay connected to their father and to process their grief.

In Look at the Moon, Jennifer and Dana share their intimate and heartfelt letters, along with their own reflections on the power of love, loss, and the enduring bonds of family.

This is a beautifully written and emotionally resonant memoir that will stay with you long after you finish reading it. It is a testament to the power of love, the importance of family, and the healing power of memories.
